Our mission

The world still needs coal – not only is coal the affordable choice for energy in many markets, but it remains the only viable choice for critical industries. Coal will continue to be a vital ingredient and key for industries, including steel and cement, the building blocks of our societies.

With countries around the world having to make energy choices – looking at security, reliability, affordability, supporting growth and being clean – our industry needs to deliver.

We have met innovation challenges before and will do so again. This is the responsibility of every company across the coal value chain. By working together, we can advance clean coal technologies and build a sustainable future for coal.

The World Coal Association wants to lead a conversation representing a modern coal value chain, leading innovation, and supporting global economic and environmental goals. If you are working with a World Coal Association member company, you are working with a responsible coal player committed to the clean transition.
The WCA represents industry leaders, committed to building a sustainable future for global coal.
