

Associate Members

Associate membership is available to companies and other organizations (with the exception of other associations) that provide services in support of the upstream oil and natural gas industry, as well as producer companies whose upstream operations are outside of Canada.

CAPP has more than 70 associate members from many different types of industries.

The benefits of a CAPP associate membership are different for every company but the most important is access to industry information, so associate members have a window on issues and priorities facing producer members, and what actions are underway.
